SENIOR DANCE OPENS SOCIAL ACTIVITIES IN BRILLIANT HOP; MUSIC BY VICTOR MEYERS

Many Homecomers Attend Affair on Eve of Davidson Game

The Senior Dancing Club gave its first dance of the year on last Friday night, and incidentally the first dance since the upper classmen returned to school. This dance, given as it was on the eve of the Davidson game and home coming day, attracted a large and gay crowd. Among those present were quite a number of Clemson men of other years, though well remembered by the upper classmen present. There was a large number of attractive girls attending this dance, as guests of the cadets who came from all parts of the state and some few from out of the state.

The big gym was very attractively decorated. No particular color scheme was used rather the decorations were of crepe paper of every color and hue mingled and mixed through the gym. The scheme was not elaborate, but very effective. Across the top were streamers hung in three low arcs, these streamers being continued down along the walls to the floor. These streamers set close together were of almost every color, each streamer being of several colors fastened together end to end, with no regular or set scheme. It gave rather the appearance of the work of a futurist artist, particularly the design at the north end of the hall. As a finishing touch palms were placed in the four corners of the building.

The music for the dance was furnished by Vick Myers' recording orchestra of Atlanta, Ga. These boys were plenty good and offered a varied and excellent program. Everyone present was high in their praise of this orchestra. It is to be hoped that they will return for another engagement at an early date.

LYCEUM OPENS SAT. WITH SUZANNE KEENER

Noted Soprano to Start This Year's Course in Chapel

The first of this year's lyceum numbers will be given Saturday night at 8 o'clock when Miss Suzanne Keener, prima donna of the National Broadcasting & Concert Bureau, will give a concert in the College Chapel.

Miss Keener has been with the Metropolitan Opera Company for three years, making her debut as Gilda in "Rigoletto." After the three years with Metropolitan she decided that the Concert field offered her greater opportunities for self-expression so she entered the concert field and has combined all her talents in a unique concert program.

Besides having a coloratura soprano voice of unusual beauty, Suzanne is beautiful and dainty, with a personal magnetism that immediately wins her audiences. She is just five feet tall, five feet of exquisite charm and musical genius.

RAEFORD McMILLAN

The youth who so calmly threw the pass which beat the Wildcats last Saturday.

TIGERS MEET PLAINSMEN IN FIRST CONFERENCE GAME

The Newberry Indians have been swamped and the Davidson Wildcats have been beaten by Clemson's Tiger. In both of these contests the Tiger of the hills was by far the superior of his foe; but on this week's card he is booked to meet an old foe who has always met him with sharpened claws. Josh Cody takes his Yellow Peril to Auburn this week to meet the Tiger of the Plains.

The Clemson-Auburn game has been a big drawing card for a long time. Both teams look upon it as perhaps their biggest game. Last year the Plainsmen were defeated by the Jungaleers for the first time in over two decades; and now the Codymen are determined to repeat last year's feat. Josh has drilled his men hard for this game and is looking forward to a larger victory than last year's 3 to 0 win.

However, Clemson will meet stiff opposition at the hands of the Alabamians. The contest is the main event on Auburn's home coming day program. The Plainsmen have made every effort to build up a team that might prevent the repetition of last year's defeat. They have now a squad that is equally as heavy as Clemson's. Besides their bulk, the Alabama Tigers are well trained in the fundamentals of the great gridiron game. As yet, they have not shown any trickery, but it is generally known that they will open the bag when they meet the Yellow Peril. Their defeat at the hands of Birmingham-Southern last Friday night proves very little, for this game counted little in comparison with the Auburn-Clemson classic.

Any prediction of the outcome of this great classic would be difficult to make at this time. Perhaps it is best to say that the Tiger vs. Tiger game will be one of the hardest games on Clemson's schedule and leave the score until the after the fracas.

AMERICAN LEGION TO DEDICATE BRIDGE

State Commander George Levy To Speak

The Clemson College post of the American Legion is to erect a bronze tablet on the Seneca River bridge as a memorial to the Clemson men who gave their lives during the World War. This tablet is to be dedicated on Armistice Day, November 11, with appropriate exercises in the College chapel and at the bridge.

This panel, which is twenty by twenty inches, will be placed on the obelisk on the left side of the bridge as approached from the Clemson College side. The lettering will be large enough to be easily read from a car on the highway. The four obelisks also contain conduits sunk into them for the purpose of putting a light on top of each at some future date. The American Legion post at Seneca will join forces with the Clemson College post and also erect a tablet, to the men of Oconee County who gave their lives during the World War, on the Seneca side of the bridge.

Mr. George Levy, of Sumter, who is the State Commander of the American Legion, will speak in chapel on this date, and also make a short speech at the bridge. The Clemson band will take part in the ceremony, as well as the entire corps.

This bridge which was completed last year is very beautiful in design, and the four obelisks at either end form a fitting memorial to those men who gave their all for their country. This excellent memorial was made possible thru the cooperation of the State Highway Department, the engineers in charge of the construction, and the college. Mr. Walter Turbeville, asst. bridge engineer in the State Highway Department designed the obelisks at either end and the college furnished the forms for these. Capt. Jos. W. Barnwell, Jr., an old Clemson man, who was in charge of the construction, gave his services and advice in their construction. The bridge itself was designed by Wm. M. Mills, Jr., a Clemson graduate, who was in the highway department at the time.

CUBS TO MEET NEWBERRY FROSH SAT.

While their big brothers are down in Alabama meeting the Auburn Plainsmen, The Tigge Cubs will hold the center of interest at Clemson. For Saturday afternoon at 3 P. M. on Riggs field the Rats will open their 1928 grid season with the first year men of Newberry.

From appearances in practice the closs of '32 has one of the strongest teams in years and are doped to repeat the winning tactics of their Sophomore brethren, who it will be remembered wiped away every obstacle in their quest for supremacy last season.

Tho every thing points toward a Cub victory, the Papooses must not be under rated for they also have the strongest freshman team that Newberry has ever garnered. Unless History fails to repeat its self the Cubs will have no setup and if after the final whistle has blown the Baby Bengals are returned victorious they will have played heads-up football. No other type can beat a Newberry team for they fight from the initial kickoff to the end with every ounce of stamina that they can muster.

TIGERS WIN FROM DAVIDSON WILDCAT 6 TO 0 SCORE IN SEASON'S SECOND GAME

HENRY ASBILL

The stalwart end that caught the pass from McMillan which won Saturdays game.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION TO DE MOLAY

Must Be a Relative of or Vouched For by a Free Mason

The Clemson Chapter of the Order of DeMolay is to be a reality sometime this week, as the culmination of the earnest endeavors of many campus Masons along with the efforts of the old members of the Order who are now attending the college. The local Masonic Lodge has given its undivided support in an effort to make the new chapter a true success. There is no reason why the Clemson chapter cannot be, and should not be, one of the very best in the state.

The intrinsic value of the order lies in those excellent qualities of manhood which the members try to uphold at all times, the splendid type of comradeship among the DeMolays and the part it plays in molding the life of an upright man. No one can take the oaths imposed on him and also be loyal to the trust placed in him without having his character strengthened and molded in the direction of that type of golden character so greatly desired by every right thinking young man.

Former members, and old members may join the order by showing their credentials and paying the dues required by the chapter. New members must signify their desire to join by asking a local member or Mason for an application. A new member must be the son or relative of a Free Mason, or must be vouched for by a Mason as worthy of comradeship in the chapter.

It is hoped that those Clemson students who are eligible and who wish to ride a wild and wooly goat on many memorable adventures will signify their wants to M. D. Eadie, P. B. Leverette, B. V. Cornwall or any DeMolay as soon as possible.

Pass From McMillan to Asbill Turns Trick For Cody's Men

Though never in danger of losing the Clemson Tigers found Davidson to be a foe worthy of their steel Saturday afternoon when they won a strenuous battle 6 to 0. The Wildcats showed Clemson a defense that was stubborn from the first whistle and which denied the jungaleers touchdowns on several different occasions when the prize lay in their grasp.

The lone touchdown was scored by Henry Asbill who received a forward pass from McMillan while standing behind the goal line which spelled victory for the Tigers.

While Clemson showed undeniable superiority in every department of the game the 3000 fans who braved the blistering sun on Riggs Field saw an afternoon crammed full of hair raising football, for the Wildcats offered such stubborn resistance that a scoreless tie was not an improbable result. Until the latter part of the third period it was anybody's game. Here Clemson took the ball after Davidson's punt on the Tigers 40 yard line, and opened up a drive that seemed headed for a certain touchdown. Raeford McMillan and Bob McCarley ploughed their way for one substantial gain after another, off the tackles and inside them, until they had the ball on the Wildcats six yard line with first down. In three trials they negotiated five and a half yards, going out of bounds on the third down. Bob McCarley took the pig skin for a last desperate thrust at the red wall, however, it took the assault and Brock kicked out to the Davidson 23 yard line. On the first play McCarley ripped off two yards inside tackle, but McMillan failed on the right side of the line. A forward pass to Pitts slipped out of the quarterback's hands and Davidson seemed spared for the time being. However, this was to be denied them for here drama entered the battle.

Raeford McMillan, brother of an illustrious Tiger quarterback of former years, with the fourth down and 8 to go dropped back ten yards behind the scrimmage line. Determination was written all over his face as his blond thatched head tilted to the rear in receiving a perfect pass from center. Pausing and surveying his field as deliberately as though he were about to roll a cigarette the grand and noble little field general spied Henry Asbill behind the goal line standing with arms raised waiting. Mac wheeled and shot the ball like a bullet from a gun straight into the versatile end's heaving bosom for the only score of the game, thus spelling victory for his team.

Statistics show that the Tigers got 10 first downs to Davidson's 5, and that the ball was kept in Davidson's territory throughout the entire game.

In Flinn and Kell the Wildcats showed fans two of the prettiest backs seen in many a day on Riggs Field. These men almost single handed made the majority of the losers' gains and broke up many

EDITORIAL

Heretofore there has been a great deal written and said about Compulsory Church Attendance. Some of it has been worth reading and listening to, but some has been worthless. In fact, it seems that the major portion has had no bearing on the ruling. But discussing compulsory Church attendance is not the purpose of this writing. Instead the purpose is to make some remarks about marching from the small parade ground to Church on Sunday and another later developed inconvenience.

Being required to attend Church is not as bad as we sometimes think. But marching on column of squads to Church causes one's resentment to run high and wax hot—even those who are accustomed to going to Church without being required.

The campus girls play an important part in encouraging the different activities of Young People's Organizations such as Epworth League, B. Y. P. U., Christian Endeavor, etc. Attendance and interest will be harmfully cut when those boys who take girls have to march back to Barracks without the chance of carrying the girls home.

It seems that everything should be done to promote the growth of all religious activities instead of anything to the contrary.

The training received in literary societies is invaluable. Literary societies is one of the best sources whereby this training may be obtained.

There are many people with college diplomas who are unable to express themselves before an audience. This is indeed a handicap for anyone and in many instances has beat the loss of large sums of money.

The following excerpts are from an editorial appearing recently in the "State".

"For years college literary societies have been gradually declining. Fifteen years ago President Snyder of Wofford College discussed this fact in the Sewanee Review.

"It seems inevitable that, as the institutions grow larger in enrollment, interest in literary societies dwindles. For instance, a quarer of a century ago, virtually the whole student body at the University of South Carolina belonged to its societies, while now about one in every eight students it a member.

"No other instrumentality can compare with the literary society as a training school for public speaking. Thousands of Americans prominent in public life, past and present, have attributed much of the credit for their success to the experience and facility they gained in college literary society. William Jennings Bryan said repeatedly that such an organization was of high value in preparing him for participation in public affairs. Woodrow Wilson began to develop in a literary society has skill as a debater and orator.

"More than ever before, facility in public speaking is an asset. In former times speaking was confined largely to professional men. Now men in virtually all vocations are expected to know how to speak on their feet. A South Carolina manufacturer, urging his son to join a literary society, told him, 'I would give $5,000 if I could make a speech.'

So far as after-life is concerned, the fraternity, the club, the athletic team have another to offer the student which is nearly so valuable as the training to be had in a literary society."

All technical institutions should require of all its students regular literary society attendance.

ETA EPSILON SIGMA INITIATES NEW MEN

T-squares, and why are they worn suspended around the neck? For the past week a number of cadets, eight to be exact, have been seen parading around the campus with the T-square dangling in front of them. These men have been chosen to become members of the Eta Epsilon Sigma, Honorary Engineering Fraternity at Clemson, and have been wearing the T-square as part of their initiation.

To become a member a student must be enrolled in one of the engineering courses and have a scholastic standing that places him among those of the first twenty percent of the senior class in these courses. One honor junior is also admitted to membership at the beginning of his junior year. He must have the highest scholastic rating in his class for his first two years in school and whose personal qualifications are, in the opinion of the Senior members, above the average.

The Seniors whose records warrant membership at this time are: J. B. Cato, E. E. Higgins, C. A. Jackson, F. W. Lachicotte, J. B. McLeod, J. H. Mayer, and W. G. Parrot. The Honor Junior taken in at this time is W. D. Craig. The other members of the Senior class who were taken in near the end of last year are: L. Anderson, J. F. Callahan, P. B. Leverette, L. F. Sander, R. L. Sweeny, W. P. Tiencken, and W. P. West, C. T. Wise being the Honor Junior that year.

Electricity opens a new era of ocean travel

Miraculously quiet and vibrationless, luxurious and swift, the new electrically operated S. S. California, largest American-built passenger ship, has opened a new era in ocean travel.

Electricity drives the California so efficiently that the fuel bill for the initial coast-to-coast trip was even less than the Canal tolls. Electricity mans the winches, bakes the bread, makes the ice, polishes the silver. And electricity cools the cabins and provides passengers with the comforts found in the finest hotels.

Complete electrification makes the California an engineering marvel and a commercial success; it is booked far in advance, a sister ship has just been launched, and another is under construction.

On sea or land, in every walk of life, electricity is in the van of progress. Undreamed of yesterday, the electric ship is a symbol of the electrical industry's part in modern civilization and a prophecy of even greater accomplishment.

This monogram is found on great motors that drive the California, and on a multitude of electric appliances which contribute to the comfort of her passengers. It is an emblem of skilled engineering and high manufacturing quality.

A STUDENT'S TEN COMMANDMENTS

1. Thou Shalt Have No Other Gods Before Me. Thou shalt not in a far country forget the God of thy fathers. He is on the campus even as He is at home.
  2. Thou Shalt Not Make Unto Thee Any Graven Image. Neither anything else shalt thou worship—whether a social organization, athletic interests, or any outside activity.
  3. Thou Shalt Not Take the Name of the Lord Thy God in Vain, no not even in minced oaths.
  4. Remember the Sabbath Day, to Keep it Holy. Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work, all thy studies; fill the seventh with those things acceptable to God.
  5. Honor Thy Farther and Thy Mother by holding fast to the best that they have taught thee.
  6. Thy Shalt Not Kill hopes or ideals; no, nor the reputation of the girl or boy across the hall.
  7. Thou Shalt Not Commit Adultery. Respect the sacredness of love; regard it never lightly.
  8. Thou Shalt Not Steal either thy roommate's or neighbor's time, ideas, work or friends.
  9. Thy Shalt Not Bear False Witness Against Thy Neighbor neither in thy room nor thy society hall nor anywhere else among thy friends.
  10. Thou Shalt Not Covet thy friends' clothes, grades, social position, nor anything else that thou hast not earned.
- Written by a Simpson College (Iowa) Student.

VESPER SERVICE

The vesper service for Sunday night was conducted by Mr. E. C. Murdock. After the song service and news reels, Mr. Griffin, returned missionary from Africa, made a short but interesting talk. Mr. Griffin spoke of the customs and habits of the natives. The talk was made doubly interesting because Mr. Griffin had with him numerous articles of every-day African life. As the speaker spoke of an article, there it was before you. Mr. Griffin told of several instances where a young African would accept Christ as his savior and would go many miles for a teacher to come and teach the natives about the proper method of living. Mr. Griffin also told of the crude and primitive way in which the natives cultivate the soil, and expressed the need of men who could teach, preach and doctor these poor natives.

BIBLE STUDY CLASSES FOR FRESHMEN

Under capable leadership of Christian professors who are interested in students and their problems, a course of Bible study for freshmen, and possible for seniors, will be conducted this semester. In view of the limited number of leaders available, the Association deems it wise to undertake the work at present with only approximately one-half of the student body. Courses for the sophomore and junior classes will be conducted during the second semester.

Classes for freshmen will be held on the company halls from eight until nine o'clock on Tuesday evenings. The work is purely voluntary. No student should join a Bible class at the expense of his regular studies. However, you will be well repaid for the putting forth of extra effort in order to study and discuss the little book "Student Standards of Action" for one hour each week. The authors deal sympathetically and wisely with those problems which you are facing day by day on the college campus. Your future success depends largely upon your success as a student. Take advantage of this opportunity to better equip yourself to make the most of "The College Job."

RAT VOLLEY BALL

TOURNEY UNDER WAY

In order to encourage a greater number of men to take adequate physical exercise, the Y. M. C. A. is conducting a company volley ball tournament for freshmen. The first games were played on Monday afternoon. Company A bowed in submission to Company M, while Company L took the count from Company C. Both games opened at a slow pace with a lack of team work. However, as the games progressed the boys settled down to business like veterans.

Each Company commander has been requested to appoint a manager of his team. Every new boy who is not out for football should try out for the volley ball team. Help your Company to win. A bracket of the games is posted at the Y. M. C. A. Watch it daily in order to know when your team is scheduled to play.

CAMPUS NOTES

The Episcopal Auxiliary met on Monday afternoon with Mrs. Jack Elmore; the Presbyterian Auxiliary met with Mrs. Sidney Crouch; the Methodist Missionary Society at the club room of the church, and the Baptist Missionary Society at the home of Mrs. C. S. Patrick.

Mrs. J. D. Harcombe was hostess to the members of the Book Circle on Tuesday afternoon. The living room was attractive in dahlias and other fall flowers. After the program and exchange of books, delightful refreshments were enjoyed.

Mrs. Winslow Sloan entertained the Wednesday Bridge Club this week. At noon a lunch was served.

Mrs. J. D. Harcombe was at home to the members of the Thursday morning bridge club this week. After a morning of bridge Mrs. Harcombe served delicious refreshments.

One of the enjoyable affairs of this week was the Silver Tea given by the Episcopal Auxiliary on Wednesday afternoon. The Tea was given at the Parish House, which was attractive in fall bowers.

Receiving at the door were Mrs. May Satterlee and Mrs. Henry Goodman.

During the afternoon delightful sandwiches and tea were served by Mrs. A. M. Musser, Mrs. D. B. Roderick, Mrs. J. D. Harcombe, Miss Hunter and Miss Seabrook.

A gratifying sum was realized from this lovely tea given for the benefit of the Parish House.

The Girl Scouts of Clemson met on Thursday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. building. This troop of eighteen girls find happiness in performing many duties as Scouts. They are interested in making orphan children happy, in beautification of homes and lawns. Last year Miss Bessie May Hewer, now a freshman at Winthrop, won first prize in the beautification contest at Clemson. A most instructive nature hike was led recently by Mrs. J. B. Chambers. It was decided to offer a silver cup this year to the patrol making most points.

The Woman's Club, of which Mrs. Richard Johnson is chairman, is sponsoring the Girl Scout troop.

The first meeting of the Bible Study Class will be held Thursday afternoon at the Methodist church. Mrs. Sidney Crouch will conduct the class.

Mrs. D. W. Watkins, Daniel Watkins, Jr., and Miss Virginia Watkins left on Monday to join Mr. Watkins at Harvard.

Bishop K. G. Finlay was a visitor here on Sunday.

Mrs. J. I. Crowther, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Crowther and family and Miss Tallulah Crowther of Anderson were guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Clinkscales last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Hunt of Columbia visited Mr. and Mrs. Hoke Sloan last week.

Dr. Rudolph Farmer of Charleston Medical College visited relatives here last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Pyron of Elkin, N. C., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Long last week-end.

Miss Mary Bryan of Converse College visited her father, A. B. Bryan, last week-end.

Miss Ann Osteen of Converse College spent Saturday with Mrs. D. W. Daniel.

Dr. Ed Shiver and Mrs. Shiver of Converse College were visitors for the game Saturday.

Walter Dargan, Shine Milling, Puch Brown, Shorty Russell and

Martin Heard were among the visitors on the campus last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Gee had as their guest for the weekend, Mr. and Mrs. S. Kirvin of Augusta, Ga. Mr. Kirvin is an alumnus of Clemson.

Dr. W. W. Long and Dr. D. W. Daniel will broadcast from Nashville, Tennessee during Smith Carolina week on Thursday and Friday evenings, October 11th and 12th.

CLUBS AND SOCIETIES

The Clemson College Dramatics Club held its first meeting Wednesday night, September 26, 1928. This meeting was for the purpose of electing officers and getting the club together preparatory to starting to work.

The officers elected were: S. E. Whitten, resident; J. C. Galloway, Vice-President; J. F. Hawkins, Business Manager; F. S. Rush, Scribe and General Stage Manager; and P. D. Schumacker, Electrician. Besides this efficient staff, the club has obtained as directors Mrs. Ben Bleckley and Mrs. R. W. Johnson. Both of these ladies have had training in dramatic arts, and the new staff should be congratulated on obtaining the services of two such capable directors.

Last year the Dramatics Club was not much in evidence around the campus. This year the old order of things is to be changed. The thing which the club lacks most at the present moment is material. All students, whether freshmen or senior, who have had any experience in any line of dramatics, are urged to attend the next meeting, the time of which will be announced later.

The A. S. M. E. will hold its second meeting of the year next Monday night, at which time all junior and senior engineers will be given a chance to join the society. An interesting and appropriate program will be carried out then, and plans will be discussed for attending the Section A S. M. E. meeting in Greenville in the near future.

The Clemson student chapter of the A. I. E. E. held a meeting last Tuesday evening for the purpose of organization. All of the Junior mechanicals and electricals were invited down, and twenty-two of them attended. Eleven senior members were present making a total of thirty-three in all. Laird Anderson, president of the chapter, made a short talk setting forth the aims and ideals of the organization, and showing the value of membership. Jimmie Callahan read the By-laws of the student organization, and after a little business discussion the society adjourned.

The first program meeting of the Calhoun Literary Society was attended by thirty-five men, most of them freshmen. The query for debate was: Resolved: That Capital Punishment Should be Abolished. The Affirmative side was well represented by Messrs. Farr and Nettles, with Messrs. Andrews and Williams as the opposing side. After a spirited contest the judges decided that the affirmative side had given the best debate.

A number of men are to be taken into the Calhoun Literary Society soon. This year gives promise of being the best literary society year Clemson has had in a number of years. There has been an encouraging attendance at every meeting, and much interest is being shown. The society will meet once each week, and programs will be posted near the guard room. All members are urged to drop by and see if they are to have a part in the program.

A.S.M.E. AND A.S.C.E. MEMBERS TO ATTEND DISTRICT MEETINGS

Atlanta and Greenville Get Visits of Engineers

The Southern district of the A. I. E. E. will meet in Atlanta October 29, 30, and 31. In connection with this, there will also be a student conference composed of members of the student branches in the engineering colleges from Virginia to Louisiana, inclusive. The Student Activities Conference will take part in the program of the Southern district.

The A. S. M. E. has its district meeting in Greenville on October 17; this will be in conjunction with the Textile show. The program has not yet been announced, but there will probably be a business meeting in the morning, an inspection of the Pacific Mills at Lyman in the afternoon, and a banquet at the Poinsett Hotel in the evening.

Clemson has student branches in both of these national organizations, besides a chapter in the A. S. C. E. There will be a number of representatives from each of the societies attending their respective district meetings.

WITH THE ALUMNI

TENNESSEE ALUMNI—ATTENTION

All the old Tigers of Tennessee are getting together for the V. M. I. Clemson game to be played in Lynchburg, November 10th, and all loyal Tigers of that state are expected to turn out in full force to see the "Yellow Peril", Clemson's rejuvenated Tigers, put the brakes on the cadets from the hills of Virginia.

This game is to be more or less of a home coming game for Clemson men in this section of the country. Already plans are well under way for the organization of motorcades from the larger cities in the vicinity of Lynchburg. Pull out that old bus and let's get together and show these Tigers from Clemson that we have not lost that old pep and that we can still cheer our Alma Mater's team to victory.

All men in the vicinity of Knoxville, who contemplate attending the game, get in touch with F. I. Wilhite, 431 Bankers Trust Company, Knoxville, Tenn., as soon as possible so that he can make arrangements for your entertainment while in Lynchburg.

Dares Fate for Favorite Pipe Tobacco

Darby, Pa., November 12, 1926.

Larus & Bro. Co.
Richmond, Va.
Gentlemen:

I have a mania for crawling through a number of unexplored caverns between the towns of Woodstock and Mt. Jackson in the Shenandoah Valley. One cave was exceedingly dangerous with its tight passages, etc. I spent three hours in this cavity, groping blindly with a "dead" flashlight and a severed guiding string.

To cut my story short, I was finally rescued by a searching party after a terrible experience. It was a wonderful feeling as I sat at the mouth of the cavern telling my friends that I would not go back in there for love nor money. I meant it—until I reached for my can of Edgeworth. It was gone, and I recalled dropping something during the excitement in the cave.

It is queer what a man will do when his favorite tobacco is concerned. I realized that without my tobacco it would be as bad as being lost in the cavity—so I crawled back.

It was a grand and glorious feeling as my hand came in contact with the Aristocrat of Tobacco.

Yours very truly,
Joseph P. Fink, Jr.

Funny clowns and pretty girls are numerous with John Robinson's Circus, which shortly will appear in this community. On its 1928 tour John Robinson is offering an entirely new program from alpha to omega, including a massive and gigantic spectacle, "King Solomon and Queen of Sheba."

Among the features will be found the three equestrian acts of the Rudynoff Family; the Johnny Correia Troupe and Walter Guice Company; the Seven Molays; the Aerial Walters; and a host of animal acts offered by Miss Mabel Stark, Theodore Schroeder, Ione Carle and Bert Noyes.

An all-steel train, the last word in circus equipment, transports John Robinson from city to city.

JUNGALERS PREPAR- ING FOR COMING YEAR

Experienced Musicians Ready For Large Number of Engagements

The Clemson College Jungaleers have been working hard for the week preparing for the numerous engagements which face them during the coming year. The orchestra this year is composed of ten men, all of whom are experienced orchestra musicians. Most of the men have played in professional bands, a large number of them playing at the Waggaman Pavilion, Lake Waccamaw, N. C., the past season.

Rupert G. Hodges is manager and director of the Jungaleers for this year. Hodges is experienced in managerial work, having managed an organization of this type each summer for the past five years. Hodges plays drums and percussions in the orchestra. The other members and instruments are: "Bill" Touchstone, first trumpet; "Gabe" Deadwiler, second trumpet; "Bill" Timmerman, Trombone; "Bogee" Bannister, first sax; Louis Graham, tenor sax; Rat Pace, third sax; "Monk" Young, bass; Barry "Snodgrass" Cornwall, piano; and "Billy" Redfern, banjo and plectrums. Among the orchestras these men have played with are: Warner's "Seven Aces", Carolina "Collegians", "Waldo La Motte", "Black Diamonds", and the "Original Melody Boys".

Last year this organization played for many major engagements away from the campus. This year it is booked to play many large engagements away from school. Their tours will cover the Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama, and Virginia.

REV. NORMAN DELIVERS CHAPEL SERMON

Baptist Evangelist Gives Help- ful Talk to Cadets

Last Thursday at the regular chapel hour, Rev. Norman, D. D. gave a very impressive informal sermon on "What are we going to do spiritually." He came to the campus Baptist church from Texas to hold a series of revival meetings.

Rev. Norman said all of us have a rather definite idea as what we are going to do with ourselves physically and mentally, but few of us have formed a clear cut idea as to what we want to do with ourselves morally and spiritually. He said we can come to a very definite conclusion if we will try to live the Christian life and read the Bible. It is the only way one can be sure he will not surrender to the wiles of the Tempter.

Many a cadet and campus resident, among both the young and old, have made the decision to try to follow the Christian life as a result of the striking sermons Rev.

Norman has delivered this week at the Baptist church. In years to come, those who decided to follow his guidance will probably find that this week has meant the turning point in his or her life.

Every human being is constantly having it brought before him that he is not living the kind of life he would like to live, and then when a man like Rev. Norman delivers his style of sermons it leaves a memory which is not easily forgotten, and surely helps man to follow the narrow path easier.

a play and pass by their wonderful defensive tactics.

For Clemson the line was like a stone wall at all periods of the game though the backfield was off at intervals. The Tigers used four punters, Asbill, Woodruff, C. McMillan, and R. McMillan, and these men averaged 46 yards on their punts to 29-yard average for Brock of Davidson.

A brief summary of what caused the smallness of the score may be best had from Carl D. Deimer's Review in the Piedmont. "Those who expected Clemson to pile up a larger score against Davidson should not be disappointed. Davidson always puts out one of the 'fightingest' teams in the entire country. You may beat them but you've got to earn every point. Clemson's offense has not been strong and evident Cody is not going to cut loose too much ahead of his conference games. Davidson simply fought its way to an almost scoreless tie. The Tigers had the resourcefulness to score, and its a victory and a well deserved one. The Wildcats probably were underrated somewhat by the Clemson players, this being something that's dangerous. The game proved again that Cody has a strong defensive outfit, one against which opponents will have a hard time scoring."

Lineup and Summary

Clemson (6)	Pos.	(0) Davidson

BY MITCHELL

Again it was demonstrated that a Tiger can lick a Wildcat when Clemson won from Davidson 6-0 Saturday. The Clemson team had a distinct advantage in every department of the game but the Davidson team played a great game and the Tigers knew that they had played a hard game when the final whistle blew. Time and time again the scrappy Davidson team stopped what looked like a sure march to the goal by the mighty Tigers. Davidson has a light, fast team this year and a team that is on its toes ready to fight from the beginning to the end. Most partisans of Clemson underrated the Davidson team but they were glad to see such strong opposition as it gave them a chance to see what the Tiger team would do under heavy fire, and they were not disappointed in the least. Only straight line plays and a few passes were used and the way our backs broke through the line and the holes that the line opened showed the spectators that Clemson is going to be the state team this year.

Next Saturday the team plays Auburn and there the real test will be held. Auburn always puts out a strong team and are on their toes to wipe out the defeat they suffered at the hands of the Tigers of the Hills last year. The fact that Auburn was beaten last week by Birmingham-Southern does not make the dope swing a bit to the fact that Clemson will by any means have an easy game on their hands. Auburn has been scouting us and that is one of the main reasons that Coach Cody did not uncork some of the trick plays that he must have up his sleeve for the crisis that is likely to come in the Auburn game. Unless injuries are sustained in practice Clemson will have all her men ready and raring to hit the line against the Tigers of the Plains.

The main topic of the state is the sensational victory of the gamecocks over the Chicago team Saturday, at Stagg Field. The Carolina team went North with all the dope against them and in true Southern fashion by dash and fire spilled the dope, and with the spilling annexed a victory that speaks well for the coaching of Billy Laval, Carolinas new coach. This victory over the Maroons by Carolina does not minimize in the least that Carolina will have a game on her hands when she plays Clemson at the State Fair three weeks hence. The Tiger defence is almost perfect and Coach Cody will have our offense in such powerful condition by that time that the Gamecocks will think that a buzzsaw has ripped into their midst. Already the Tiger defence has shown that they can plow the line with the best and the fast men that Clemson boasts are sure to give the Carolina ends a fit. Our punting which in the last few years has been woefully weak has picked up and this year we have several men who will give the spectators a thrill.

Notre Dame had a close call Saturday when Loyola, New Orleans, held them to a six to zero victory. Notre Dame has not lost a game on Cartier field in the last 23 years but the Southerners came within an ace of turning the trick. The University of Mississippi romped away with the Arkansas Razorbacks in a 25-0 victory. Ole Miss is a new addition to the Clemson schedule this year and the Tiger team will have a hard game before them when they face Coach Homer Hazel's charges on November 3.

Another sensation in the football of the state was the victory of Furman over Duke University. The Furman team was slightly on the low end of the betting and they too showed that you can never tell how a football game will turn out until the game is over. Furman should be given great credit for the winning of this game as she was playing a new team with a new coach against an experienced team that made a bid for the Tarheel championship last year and on the strength of that has scheduled games with such teams as the Navy,

Boston, and South Dakota. "Dad" Amis has started his team out on the right foot and should have them in great shape by the time that they are to meet the Yellow Peril. The Tigers will be able to give them a game this year that will make only a light breeze out of the famed Hurricane.

The real test for the conference team comes next week when fourteen of the South's best face strong foes on Saturday. Two of these teams face intersectional tests. Within the conference the University of Alabama-Ole Miss game probably carries the greatest interest as Ole Miss has already one overwhelming victory to her credit. South Carolina by virtue of her defeat of Chicago last week will be watching when she ties up with Cavaliers at Charlottesville. The Virginians showed a crushing offense Saturday when they beat back Randolph-Macon. North Carolina carries what boasts to be the most powerful team in years to College Park for a fling at Maryland. Both of these teams have shown a powerful offense in opening games.

Auburn does not seem disheartened by her defeat at the hand of Birmingham-Southern and is all primed to give Clemson a hard tussel. Clemson has already two victories to her credit and it will be hard to keep a still hungry Tiger from more food in the way of victories.

Old Gold hits a homer for Babe Ruth in Blindfold cigarette test

"Yes, I am well over 21... so I could see no reason why I shouldn't make the blindfold test. As I tried the four leading cigarettes I kept this 'box score' on the results:

No. 1 . . . . out at first
No. 2 . . this one 'fanned'
No. 3 . . out on a pop fly
No. 4 (OLD GOLD) a home run hit!

"OLD GOLD'S mildness and smoothness marked it 'right off the bat' as the best."

Why do they choose OLD GOLD... even in the dark?

What is this superiority that wins so many famous people? It's simply honey-like smoothness... the new and delightful quality that Old Gold has added to
